What is Cyber Insurance?

Cyber Insurance is an essential policy in this digital age as cybercrime is now one of the biggest threats faced by Australian businesses.

Cyber Insurance protects businesses against online risks, such as computer hacking, breach of privacy or data theft. As we all now rely upon technology to do business, the threat of a cyberattack is inevitable. The consequences of an attack are far-reaching and may damage your IT systems, compromise your data and temporarily stop you from doing business.

Simple errors such as clicking on a malicious link (malware), attaching the wrong file to an email to more complicated situations such as network or website attacks are time-consuming and costly. They may expose your business and directors to fines and penalties.

You can obtain optional cover for Social engineering, Phishing and Cyber Fraud Cover, some of which were covered traditionally under other insurance policies. So be sure to discuss this with us to ensure you do not double up on insurance and are adequately covered.

Is your turnover more than $3,000,000?

If your company has a data breach, you are required to notify affected individuals and make a report to the Privacy Commissioner in circumstances where the breach could cause 'serious harm'. Failure to do so results in significant fines for the business and individual directors.
